As to contributory negligence on the part of the respondent a witness called by the appellant says that at the time of the accident the Respondent was looking up at the decorations which had been placed over the shop in connection with the Coronation festivities. The Magistrate does not say whether or not he believed this witness. If, however, he did, in this Court's opinion, the mere looking up at decorations could not be regarded as contributory negligence. In any case it is clear that appellant by the exercise of reasonable care could have avoided the injury to the Respondent and he therefore is not excused if ever this act of the Respondent could be regarded as contributing to the accident.

The appeal is dismissed and the decision of the Magistrate confirmed with costs.

L. C. DALTON,
Registrar.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

LIMITED JURISDICTION.

THIS 17TH DAY OF FEBRUARY, 1912.

HARRIS AND COY. AND ANOR. versus
RAMPHUL.

This matter comes before the Court in the shape of a specially endorsed writ for $2,307.54 (a) $387.54 for goods sold, supplied and delivered to Harris & Co., whose sole partner is Thomas W. Harris, and (b) $1,920 for salary as bookkeeper due to the said T. W. Harris.

Counsel for defendant asks on his appearing after filing affidavit of defence that better particulars should be supplied in regard to the date and place on which the verbal agreement as to salary was made, averring that he will be precluded from so applying if he does not now make the application, inasmuch as the endorsement on a specially endorsed writ is not a "pleading" within the rules.

A specially endorsed writ is, where the subject or context of the order is not repugnant thereto, a pleading within the definition of "Pleadings" in the Judicature Act, 1873, s. 100 and where a writ is specially endorsed under O. IV, R. 6. no further statement shall be filed but the endorsement on the writ shall be deemed to be the statement of claim and the service of a writ specially endorsed under O. XII is delivery of a statement of claim to the defendant within the meaning of O. XIX, R. 7. The special endorsement is the pleading.

I do not think that on appearance at the hearing of this specially endorsed writ the defendant is entitled to an order for better particulars. If his affidavit of defence discloses good ground for so doing, the Court will give him leave to defend and on so doing, defendant has to file his defence under O. XIX, R. 8.

He can, if he so desires, move the Court after obtaining leave to defend for an order for better particulars. In the present case the affidavit of defence filed discloses grounds on which the Court grants leave to defend. Costs to be costs in the cause.

April, 1912, and ending upon the thirty-first day of March, 1917, the annual sums set out in the several Schedules annexed to this Ordinance for the maintenance of the ministers of the Christian Religion in this Colony; and such annual sums shall be appropriated in strict conformity with the Schedules annexed to this Ordinance: Provided always that the annual sums specified in Schedule A and Schedule B as the annual salaries of the respective ministers of the Church of England and Church of Scotland named in the said Schedules, shall be paid to them respectively so long as they respectively continue to perform the duties of the offices which, they respectively fill at the present time, or of any other offices in the Colony of the church to which they belong, but that in the event of any such minister, either by death, resignation, retirement on pension, or any other cause whatsoever, ceasing to discharge the duties of any such office as aforesaid in the church to which he belongs, then, in lieu of the sum granted as annual salary for such officer in accordance with the said Schedules, a sum equivalent to seventy-five per cent. of such salary shall thereafter, during the continuance of the said term of five years, be granted to His Majesty the King, his heirs and successors, such sum to be paid to the governing body of such church, and to be appropriated by the governing body for the support of such church, but such grant shall in no way confer any vested right to such sum in the governing body of such church for the time being after the expiration of the said term of five years.

Charge of same on General Revenue.

3. The Clergy List Establishment, as provided by this Ordinance, shall be charged upon and made payable from and out of the Colonial Revenues of British Guiana, and shall be taken to have commenced on and from the first day of April, 1912, and shall be paid to His Majesty, his heirs and successors, up to and until the thirty-first day of March, 1917, with preference, next after the Civil List Establishment as provided by law, over and above all other payments whatsoever which have heretofore been, or which shall, or may hereafter be charged or become chargeable to, or payable from, or out of the said Colonial Revenues.

Time and manner of payment.

4. Each of the annual sums set out in the said Schedules shall grow due and become payable to His Majesty, his heirs and successors, monthly on the last day of each month in each year, by even and equal portions, out of the moneys of the said Colonial Revenues, the first monthly payment thereof to be deemed to have become payable upon the thirtieth day of April, 1912, and the Receiver General for the time being may from time to time, upon the warrant or order of the Governor, pay each such sum out of the moneys arisen, or to arise from and out of the said Colonial Revenues, without any further order or other formality: Provided always that the amount so from time to time to be paid as aforesaid for, or in respect of, each month shall not exceed one-twelfth part of the total annual amount of such sum.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

LIMITED JURISDICTION.

THIS 17TH DAY OF FEBRUARY, 1912.

MASSIAH, versus
McLEAN.

Plaintiff in this action seeks to recover from the defendant, who is his grand-daughter, the sum of $326.38, amount alleged to be due by the defendant to him for moneys paid and advanced by the plaintiff to and for her use, and for her maintenance and board, all at her request, and also seeks to restrain her from passing transport of lot 96, Albert-town, with the buildings and erections thereon.

The facts are that the mother and father of the defendant died in the latter part of 1906, within 14 days of each other, leaving the defendant, an only child, and then just about 13 years old. The grand-parents took charge of the minor, and all went well apparently until September, 1910, when defendant married one McLean. The grand-parents (who after the death of the father and mother of defendant, had disposed of a property they had, and lived with the defendant on her property (lot 96 mentioned above)) and the newly-married couple lived at lot 96. Differences arose almost immediately with the result that the defendant and her husband left the house in November, 1910, and the grand-parents in January, 1911.

Plaintiff then brought an action against defendant for $326.38, as stated before—and defendant counter-claimed for $507.62 for use and occupancy, and for rentals received. While this action was pending, defendant sought to transport lot 96; opposition was entered by the plaintiff, and the present action brought, defendant setting up his defence in the previous action by way of set-off, and not counter-claiming.

The defence also set up (a) prescription, which, however, in view of section 13, Ordinance 1 of 1856, was not pressed, and also (b) that defendant could not have sued as sole heiress under the will of Nathaniel Stuart in connection with the funeral expenses of Mrs. Stuart, and it was argued that marriage in community could not be presumed. I think it is clear from plaintiff's own evidence that the marriage of defendant's parents of which she was the sole issue took place before 1904, but in any case the onus of showing it did not, is on the defendant. It was also urged by the defence that the claim for $180 for maintenance and board of defendant from 13.12.06 to 3.9.10 could not be joined with the claim against defendant as sole heiress under her father's will—but it is evident that this claim is in connection with her minority and as such would be against her in her capacity as having adiated the estate as the sole heiress—and giving a right of action against her or her representative, at any time. Further, if defendant cannot be sued in the way she has been with regard to this item, it is open to much doubt whether defendant would have a right to set-off the claim for use and occupancy she has put in. Possibly her being sole heiress might make it a good defence. (Macdonald v. Carington 4 C.P. D. 28.)

I am of opinion it comes between the spirit of Order XVI. Rule 1 (f). On the merits, the defence set up is that plaintiff received certain moneys consisting of cash at the time of the death of Mr. Stuart, realisations of furniture, jewellery, and rentals—and out of such receipts he was enabled to pay the sums he now claims for. The defence also set up a claim for use and occupancy of lot 96—on the part of plaintiff and his wife—which is evidently intended to meet the claim of the plaintiff for maintenance and board of defendant.

The evidence before the Court is very meagre. I am satisfied that plaintiff did receive $25 for the funeral expenses of Mrs. Stuart, but I am not satisfied that it was disposed of in the way suggested by him, and as regards the items for funeral expenses the amount of $25 should be set-off. With regard to the items for repairing of lot 96, Albert-town, fees for medical attendance on N. Stuart and cleaning cesspit, the evidence as regards the repairs is unsatisfactory and the Court allows for these three charges, $9. For taxes paid there are vouchers for $22 and this is allowed, as is also $135 for the maintenance and board of the defendant at $3 per mensem.

On the other hand the Court is satisfied that the plaintiff should in his turn be debited with something for the use and occupation of the house at lot 96—for 3 years and 1 month, and $3 per month would seem equitable. This gives $111, and it is also evident that the plaintiff has received rents from the rooms under the house. The defendant was a child of 13 years, at the time of her parents' death in 1906, and it is not strange that she should have been unable to give specific items—and it is evident that in addition to receiving some rents plaintiff did use the land on which there was the oven in which his wife baked bread for sale, as so late as August, 1909, he writes to McLean, now the defendant's husband, with regard to his taking out licence to extend the business, which McLean says was selling bread, and cake, and for which purpose he was going to turn out a tenant under the house of the defendant. It is very difficult with the slight data before the Court to arrive at a definite amount, but the Court thinks $2.64 per month a fair sum—this for 4 years amounts to $126.72. The answer as to the jewellery is insufficient to allow the Court to find for the defendant or to this item.

On the whole case therefore the defendant is successful, her set-off exceeding plaintiff's claim as allowed and there will be judgment for her with costs, the opposition to the transport being declared unjust, illegal, and ill-founded.

FUNG CHUNG FA,

M. VIEIRA.

The plaintiff claims from the defendant the sum of $129.16 for moneys paid to one Joseph Springer by the plaintiff at the request of the defendant. The defence is a denial of indebtedness, a denial of any request, a denial of any authority to Springer to receive the amounts mentioned on defendant's behalf, and, if paid, a denial of payment for or on behalf of defendant.

The plaintiff has not, in the opinion of the Court, made out his case. On the contrary, the evidence of the plaintiff's chief witness, Daniels, is of a nature in many respects, as was admitted by counsel for plaintiff, to cast grave reflection on his truthfulness, and that being so his evidence in other respects cannot be accepted. The defendant, on the other hand, has given a clear account of his transactions with the plaintiff, and repudiates any acknowledgment at any time of indebtedness to plaintiff for moneys paid to Springer. It seems most unlikely that he would have altered, without apparent reason the procedure he had previously adopted when Glasgow managed his business for five weeks or so—except, as he himself points out, his instructions to Springer were different, and the Court believes that those instructions were as stated by him, that is, that the expenses of Springer and his two men were to be met from the rentals received by Springer on behalf of the defendant.

It is also incredible that Springer having been given, as he says, a donation of $10 by defendant (which would in itself be improbable if defendant had accepted liability for $129.16) should have taken $7 for his and his men's wages for three days and actually placed the $3 and obtained a receipt for it, as on account of defendant's liability to plaintiff—the whole transaction savours too much of an attempt to saddle defendant with a liability not really his.

The defendant has always met his liability to plaintiff on other transactions readily and this must be counted in his favour.

There will be judgment for the defendant with costs.

FULL COURT (APPEAL COURT.)

THIS 22ND DAY OF FEBRUARY, 1912.

In re LAURENCE

versus

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Ex parte LAURENCE.

The plaintiff in the action wherein the amount claimed was less than $250 having applied for leave to appeal from the judgment therein, and the Judge who heard the case having refused leave, the application is now renewed before this Court.

The question for decision is whether "some substantial question of law" is involved upon which it is desirable to have the decision of the Appeal Court within the meaning of O. XLIII. r. 5 of the Rules of Court, 1900. The question raised in the action is what fee, if any, is payable under Schedule 2 of the Patents Ordinance, 1902, on filing with the Registrar of Patents a copy of an assignment of a patent.

A question of law to be regarded as substantial must be one that is seriously arguable. It is open to doubt whether the question in this case comes within that description but on the whole we think it is sufficiently arguable to come within the rule, and in view of the facts that the matter affects the procedure of a public office and that the former Registrar of Patents appears to have considered that no fee was payable while the present Registrar holds the contrary opinion, the question is one which we think should be finally settled.

Leave to appeal is therefore granted.

HENRY A. BOVELL, C.J.
M. J. BERKELEY, J.

In view of the opinion expressed by the majority of the Court, I am not disposed to dissent from the decision arrived at.

J. K. DARRELL HILL, Actg. J.

GENERAL JURISDICTION.

THIS 22ND DAY OF FEBRUARY, 1912.

PETERS, Plaintiff.

versus

PETERS, Defendant.

The plaintiff seeks a dissolution of his marriage with the defendant on the ground of her alleged adultery with one William Boyd, the custody of two minor children of the said marriage, named Carl Noel and Thomas Henry, and an order declaring the defendant to have forfeited her share in their common property.

The evidence establishes that the parties are natives of and domiciled in this colony and the alleged adultery is proved. No facts appear disentitling the plaintiff to the divorce he seeks, and the property held in community is prima facie shown by the evidence not to have been property brought into community by the defendant herself or acquired by her after her marriage.

The Court grants an order in accordance with the plaintiff's claim, save that the costs of the proceedings must be borne by him. This judgment shall in no wise affect the question of the legitimacy of the child born in 1907, who has been mentioned in these proceedings.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

LIMITED JURISDICTION.

THIS 24TH DAY OF FEBRUARY, 1912.

MELVILLE,

versus

RAMPHUL.

I am of opinion that this special endorsement gives sufficient particulars to enable the defendant to know what case he has to answer, and whether he ought to pay or resist. It alleges a written agreement between the parties, gives its date, gives the duration of the contract it embraces, gives the sum ascertained to be due under it, gives the receipt of an ascertained sum under the contract, and claims a specified balance.

It was strongly urged by Counsel for the defendant that particulars of the credit should be given and Godden vs. Corsten, 5 C. P. D. 17, was referred to. That case is inapplicable as the two credit items there were for "allowance for work not performed," and "bricks, goods and work" quite a different thing to an alleged receipt on account of moneys due for work done and service rendered as a manager and supervisor of defendant's balata grants under a written agreement.

The defendant is entitled on his affidavit of defence to leave to defend which is granted. Costs to be costs in the cause.

J. K. DARRELL HILL, Acting J.

APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

THIS 27TH DAY OF FEBRUARY, 1912.

FERNANDES, Appellant,

versus

WEEKS, Respondent.

This is an appeal against the acquittal of the respondent on a charge that he "being the owner of a "heifer calf intended for slaughter on the 4th De- "cember, 1911, * * * did drive the said heifer calf "through the city between the hours of 5 and 6.30 "a.m. contrary to by-law 20 of the general by-laws "applicable to the whole city under the Georgetown "Town Council Ordinance, 1898."

The Magistrate dismissed the complaint on the ground that the respondent was charged with driving the calf, whereas the evidence showed it was not driven by him but by some one else.

The grounds of appeal are that the decision is erroneous in law, (a) because the liability of the defendant arose by reason of his being the owner of the animal which it was proved was driven through the streets of Georgetown contrary to the by-laws, and (b) because it was not necessary to prove that defendant personally drove the animal through the streets in order to obtain a conviction.

By-law No. 20 provides that "no kine intended "for slaughter shall be driven into, or out of or "through the city except between the hours of "twelve (midnight) and five o'clock in the morning." No penalty is prescribed by this by-law for any breach of its provisions, but under section 192 (4) of the Georgetown Town Council Ordinance, 1898, every person guilty of an offence against any by-law for which no special penalty is imposed shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars. Hence any person (whether the owner or not of the kine driven) who actually drives through the city at any time not within the specified hours, kine intended for slaughter, not only is guilty of an offence against the by-law No. 20, but becomes liable on account of such offence to a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars.

If the by-laws contained no other provision on the subject by-law 20 read with section 192 (4) might perhaps be construed, in the same way as section 6 of the Food and Drugs Act, 1875, was interpreted in Brown v. Foot (61 L.J. 110), viz., as subjecting the owner to a penalty for doing the prohibited act, though it was done not by him personally but by his servant. But as by-law 25 expressly imposes a penalty on the owner of the animal driven, this express provision, on the principle expressio unius exclusio alterius, excludes, in my opinion, the construction that by-law 20 impliedly imposes a penalty on the owner, (though he be not the driver) of the kine driven through the city within prohibited hours, at any rate in cases where (as in this case) there is no evidence of any guilty knowledge on the owner's part. From this it follows that an owner may be liable either under by-law 20 and section 192 (4) of the Ordinance to a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars for himself driving kine in contravention of that by-law or under by-law 25 to a penalty not exceeding twenty-four dollars as being the owner of an animal which has been driven by another person in contravention of by-law 20.

The charge made against an owner should therefore in all cases be so framed as to show whether he is being proceeded against under by-law 20, or under by-law 25. And if the charge is laid under the one by-law and the evidence shows the case is within the other only, the Magistrate cannot, in my opinion, treat this as a variance within the meaning of section 97 of the Summary Conviction Offences (Procedure) Ordinance, 1893 (Martin v. Pridgeon 28 L.J., 179: R. v. Brickhall, 33 L.J., 156) and convict on that complaint. Having regard to the form of the complaint in the present instance I think the Magistrate rightly regarded it as brought under by-law 20, and in view of the evidence rightly dismissed the complaint.

The conclusion just stated renders it unnecessary to consider whether by-law 24 allows all calves kept in the city to be driven through it within the hours therein mentioned. The other points also which were raised on appeal need not be dealt with.

The Magistrate's decision is affirmed and the appeal dismissed with such costs (if any) as the respondent who appeared in person may be entitled to under the Magistrates' Decisions (Appeals) Ordinance, 1893.

LIMITED JURISDICTION.

THIS 28TH DAY OF FEBRUARY, 1912.

ARCHER et al,

RODRIGUES.

The plaintiffs in this action seek to prevent the defendant from passing transport of a piece of land part of Plantation Klien Pouderoyen, situate on the west bank of the River Demerary, bounded on the south by the lands owned by Francis Antony, and on the north by the lands owned by H. G. de Faria, on the east by the Demerara River, and on the west by the public road, and known as lot 30 (thirty), with one building thereon and save and except the building belonging to Pyah.

The claim of the plaintiffs is based on a prescriptive right as set out fully in the reasons of opposition, and also on bona fide and undisturbed possession in themselves since 1887.

It alleges that one Henry Glasford Archer was possessed of the said piece of land since 1863 and erected the building thereon, that he lived on and had possession up to 1887 when he died intestate, that he lived in concubinage with one Martha Smith who resided with him on the said piece of land from 1863 to 1866 when she died, that the two plaintiffs were born of the said Martha Smith, as was also one Mary Elizabeth Archer, the mother of the defendant, the said Mary Elizabeth Archer having been born in 1860, and having died in 1899. It further alleges (pars. 11 and 12) a right in the plaintiffs themselves.

In opposition suits the general rule is that a party opposing must show a title to oppose, but it is a well established principle that in any action a plaintiff is not bound to do more than prove his right as against a defendant, but where a defendant is precluded from contesting any matters otherwise requiring proof, e.g., by relationship of landlord and tenant, it is unnecessary for a plaintiff to prove what, there being some other defendant, it might be necessary to prove. No legal relationship exists as between plaintiffs and defendant as would preclude the defendant from contesting the plaintiffs claim or his right to oppose and the obligation is on plaintiffs to show such right as against the defendant.

The first plaintiff Jacintho Correia Archer says H. G. Archer bought the land for $150 from the proprietors of Plantation Versailles paying $100, and that payment of the balance was waived, as his son Benjamin got killed in a boiler explosion on the estate. He never got transport however. Two witnesses, France and Thomas, say that Archer the elder told them he was given the land as compensation in connection with the death of his son Benjamin. That death is admitted to have been in 1877, and Archer died in 1887. It is possible, of course, that Archer the elder may have been referring to the waiver of the payment of the balance of fifty dollars, but looked at from the other point of view, he would seem to have been in all probability only a tenant up to 1877. However that may be there is no doubt that the plaintiffs have no right through H. G. Archer as they are illegitimate children, and only his lawful children could claim, if he had any title, but so far as plaintiffs themselves may be considered to have fulfilled the requirements necessary to acquisition by prescription, i.e., apprehensio and animus, it is clear that their possession only commenced in 1887, after H. G. Archer died.

Does this give them a right to oppose as against defendant? In the opinion of the Court the fact that for 24 years—since the death of H. G. Archer in 1887—they had been in the bona fide possession of the land—both elements of possession being present—does give them a right to oppose, and shifts on the defendant the onus of showing her right to transport as against them.

When a plaintiff in opposition proceedings establishes possession, as the plaintiffs have in this action done since 1887, he establishes his right to the rights of that position. "Bare possession is sufficient and "excuses a person from further showing how he ac- "quired his title," sufficient, that is, "to entitle him "to retain possession until somebody else who dis- "putes his possession has lawfully established his right "of property .... so that when any one claims a "thing as his property and cannot clearly establish "his right judgment must always be in favour of the "possessor although the latter offers no evidence in "his own behalf." (Van Leeuwen, vol. 1. p. 198 and see also Van der Linden p.p. 183 and 184).

The plaintiffs have proved possession since 1887 and are entitled to retain possession until somebody else, that is, the transporter here, has lawfully established her right of property.

The onus therefore is cast on the defendant. This she has not discharged; she has given no evidence whatever, nor called any witnesses, and the plaintiffs are entitled to succeed.

The opposition is declared just, well-founded, and legal, with costs, and the defendant is hereby restrained from passing the transport advertised.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

LIMITED JURISDICTION.

THIS 5TH DAY OF MARCH, 1912.

FAUSET
versus
BAVEGHEMS.

This is an opposition action brought to restrain the defendant from passing transport of a lot of land in front of Plantation Zeelandia, in the island of Wakenaam, in the county of Essequebo, known as lot E, on a diagram or chart by Alexander Buchanan, Sworn Land Surveyor, dated the 29th January, 1844.

By his statement of claim the plaintiff says that this lot forms part of Plantation Zeelandia, which is owned by him under a transport dated 26th March, 1907.

By his defence the defendant denies that lot E, forms any part of Plantation Zeelandia, which is owned by the opposer and claims that he is the owner by right of prescription through his wife Mary Christina Baveghems, born Daniel, to whom he was married in community of property in 1885, the said Mary Christina Daniel being the only issue of her father and mother Benjamin Daniel and Deborah Frett (born Beram), deceased, who were married in community of property in the year 1858, both of whom occupied the same till their death, the said Deborah Frett, having been previously married in community of property to her husband Florenço Frett, the original owner and occupier of the said lot.

The evidence shows that this lot E. is situate on that part of Zeelandia plantation formerly known as Rust-na-on-Rust and not on Glenawah plantation as stated by defendant in his evidence. Counsel for the defence admits that the Court must so find. This lot E, was not excepted in the transport to plaintiff of 26th March, 1907, which read "Zeelandia with all its lands including those of Rust-na-on-Rust, except such parts of said Rust-na-on-Rust known as Zeelandia Village as are transported to several persons."

Three other parcels of land are also excepted but these have no connection with the subject matter of this action.

During defendant's occupancy of this lot. Zeelandia Estate was sold three times, viz., in 1896, in 1899 and in 1907, to the plaintiff. In each of these transports the exceptions referred to are the same, no opposition was entered by defendant although he admits, so far as the last transport is concerned, that he was aware of the advertisement. In view of these facts the Court holds that defendant is estopped from setting up title by prescription if even the same can be established.

As to prescriptive title through his wife the evidence shows that defendant has lived on this lot during his married life, that is from 1885, that his wife is the only lawful issue of her parents who were married in 1858, that his wife's mother contracted a third marriage in 1865, that plaintiff when manager of Zeelandia some five years ago had paid to defendant poundage fees in respect of stock trespassing, that plaintiff regarded him as a squatter and only interfered with his occupation when he (defendant) attempted to sell. These facts cannot be held to establish that such title is in defendant.

The Court grants an order restraining the defendant from passing transport and orders him to pay the costs of this action.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

THIS 8TH DAY OF MARCH, 1912.

THE CONSOLIDATED RUBBER AND BALATA ESTATES, LIMITED, Appellants.

versus

ISAAC POMPEY, Respondent.

This is an appeal from the Stipendiary Magistrate of the Georgetown Judicial District, who in a claim for wages made by respondent, gave judgment in his favour for $13.05.

The Magistrate finds that this sum was deducted from the amount due to respondent, being his share of the value of certain balata lost in transit through the alleged carelessness of the respondent and others, and that the respondent signed the exhibit D for "$27.44, balance in full satisfaction of boathand wages to date," but that the appellant Company had no right to make this deduction.

The substantial ground of appeal is that the Magistrate having found as a fact that respondent gave the receipt D, he was not at liberty to re open such stated and settled account, there being no evidence of fraud, duress or undue influence.

The evidence shows that respondent was one of eight men charged with the value of certain balata which he admits the Captain charged them with having purposely lost, and that on 20th December, he objected to accept his wages less this amount, but that he returned the next day and agreed to do so whereupon he signed the receipt and received payment.

According to the notes of evidence, the point at issue seems to have been the signing of the receipt which the plaintiff alleged was forged. There is no suggestion of fraud. In the absence of any such evidence, the respondent is estopped by the receipt which he gave "in full satisfaction" and the terms of which he clearly understood.

The appeal is allowed, the decision of the Magistrate reversed and judgment entered for the appellant Company with costs.

THE EARLY NOTIFICATION OF BIRTHS BILL.

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM.

This Bill is a transcription of the English Notification of Births Act of 1907, with the necessary alterations.

In Great Britain the Act is considered a very valuable adjunct in reducing infantile mortality.

It is not intended to make the Act compulsory, but to give the power to any Local Authority to adopt it.

By its adoption Local Authorities are enabled to be immediately informed of every birth and to take such steps as are necessary for the saving of infant life.

By the assistance of "Health Visitors" the condition of the mother and child is ascertained, aid promptly supplied if necessary, and mothers are instructed in the care and management of their infants.

A BILL ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR "THE EARLY NOTIFICATION OF BIRTHS."

BE it enacted by the Governor of British Guiana, with the advice and consent of the Court of Policy thereof, as follows :—

Provisions for the earlier notification of births.

1.—The provisions of this section shall have effect in the area of any local authority in which this Ordinance is adopted by that authority in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

(1.) In the case of every child born in an area in which this Ordinance is adopted it shall be the duty of the father of the child, if he is actually residing in the house where the birth takes place at the time of its occurrence, and of any person in attendance upon the mother at the time of, or within six hours after, the birth, to give notice in writing of the birth to the medical officer of health of the district in which the child is born, in manner provided by this section.

(2.) Notice under this section shall be given by posting a pre-paid letter or postcard addressed to the medical officer of health at his office or residence, giving the necessary information of the birth within thirty-six hours after the birth, or by delivering a written notice of the birth at the office or residence of the medical officer within the same time; and the local authority shall supply without charge addressed and stamped postcards containing the form of notice to any medical practitioner or midwife residing or practising in their area, who applies for the same.

(3.) Any person who fails to give notice of a birth in accordance with this section shall be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding five dollars: Provided that a person shall not be liable to a penalty under this provision if he satisfies the Court that he had reasonable grounds to believe that notice had been duly given by some other person.

(4.) The notification required to be made under this Ordinance shall be in addition to and not in substitution for the requirements of any Ordinance relating to the registration of births; and any registrar of births and deaths, whose registration division or any part thereof is situate within any area in which this Ordinance is adopted, shall at all reasonable times have access to notices of births received by the medical officer of health under this Ordinance, or to any book in which those notices may be recorded, for the purpose of obtaining information concerning births which may have occurred in his registration division.

(5.) This section shall apply to any child which has issued forth from its mother after the expiration of the twenty-eighth week of pregnancy, whether alive or dead.

(6.) Any expenses incurred by a local authority in the execution of this Ordinance shall be paid as part of the expenses of that authority in the execution of the Ordinances relating to public health, and in the case of a rural district council shall be paid as general expenses.

Adoption of Ordinance, and definition of local authority.

2.—(1.) A local authority may by resolution adopt this Ordinance in their area, and the provisions set out in the schedule to this Ordinance shall have effect with respect to the resolution of adoption.

(2.) A resolution of adoption shall not take effect until the consent of the Local Government Board has been obtained thereto.

(3.) It shall be the duty of any local authority by whom this Ordinance is adopted, as soon as the consent of the Local Government Board is given to the resolution of adoption, to bring the provisions of this Ordinance to the attention of all medical practitioners and midwives practising in their area.

(4.) In this Ordinance, the expression "local authority" means a local authority under the Local Government Ordinance, 1907.

No. 13 of 1907.

Power of Local Government Board to put Ordinance in force in the area of any local authority.

3. The Local Government Board may by order declare that this Ordinance shall be in force in the area of any local authority who have power to adopt the Ordinance, although it has not been so adopted, if they think it expedient, having regard to the circumstances of the area, and in that case the order of the Local Government Board shall have the same effect for the purpose as a resolution of adoption duly passed by the local authoritiy of the area and assented to by the Local Government Board.

4. This Ordinance may be cited as the Notification of Births Ordinance, 1912. Short title.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

THIS 14TH DAY OF MARCH, 1912.

J. H. SURREY, Widow
versus
VEERASAWMY.

In this case the appellant claims from the respondent $94.60 amount due, owing and payable by the respondent to the appellant for boarding and lodging balata bleeders at respondent's request, and for moneys found to be due, owing and payable on an account stated and for moneys agreed to be paid. The learned Magistrate in the Court below found that the plaintiff (appellant) had not proved her claim and non-suited her.

This Court agrees with that decision. The evidence does not satisfy the Court that there was any contract express or implied between appellant or respondent as alleged in the claim.

No account stated is proved, and the evidence on which appellant relies to prove that the respondent agreed to pay moneys as alleged in the claim is not sufficient to prove such an alleged agreement.

The learned Magistrate rightly non-suited the appellant, and the appeal is dismissed with costs.

(3.) If the driver of any car who commits an offence under this section refuses to give his name or address, or gives a false name or address, he shall be guilty of an offence under this Ordinance, and it shall be the duty of the owner of the car, if required, to give any information which it is within his power to give, and which may lead to the identification and apprehension of the driver, and if the owner fails to do so he also shall be guilty of an offence under this Ordinance.

Registration of motor cars.

2.—(1.) Every motor car shall be registered with the Chief Commissary, who shall assign a separate number to every such car.

(2.) A mark, indicating the registered number of the car, shall be fixed on the car or on a vehicle drawn by the car, or on both, in such manner as shall be prescribed by by-laws made under this Ordinance.

(3.) A fee of one dollar shall be charged by the Chief Commissary on the registration of a car, except in the case of motor cycles for which the fee shall be fifty cents.

(4.) If a car is used on a public road without being registered, or if the mark to be fixed in accordance with this Ordinance is not so fixed, or if, being so fixed, it is in any way obscured or rendered or allowed to become not easily distinguishable, the person driving the car shall be guilty of an offence under this Ordinance, unless, in the case of a prosecution for obscuring a mark or rendering or allowing it to become not easily distinguishable, he proves that he has taken all steps reasonably practicable to prevent the mark being obscured or rendered not easily distinguishable.

Provided that—

The Official Gazette

OF BRITISH GUIANA.

Published by Authority of His Excellency the Governor.

GEORGETOWN, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3RD, 1912.

Government Notice.

GOVERNMENT SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
GEORGETOWN, DEMERARA,
2nd April, 1912.

129. THE following Bill, which it is proposed to introduce into the Court of Policy, is hereby published for general information.

By Command,

J. HAMPDEN KING,
Acting Government Secretary.

THE PASSENGERS ORDINANCE, 1864, AMENDMENT BILL, 1912.

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM.

The object of this Bill is to enable local steamers when going between this Colony and Nickerie in Dutch Guiana to carry more than the number of passengers allowed to vessels which go beyond the territorial waters of the Colony. There is no more danger in going to Nickerie than in sailing along the coasts of the Colony, and as the prohibition hampers the steamers trading between the Colony and Nickerie, the Bill removes the prohibition and puts such vessels as to the number of passengers they can carry on the same footing as if they were coasting vessels. Vessels going to sea further than Nickerie must however conform to the existing law as to the number of passengers they can carry.

A BILL ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE PASSENGERS ORDINANCE, 1864."

BE it enacted by the Governor of British Guiana, with the advice and consent of the Court of Policy thereof, as follows :—

Number of passengers to be carried on voyage to Nickerie. No. 4 of 1864. No. 2 of 1895.

1. Notwithstanding anything contained in section six of the Passengers Ordinance, 1864, any passenger ship on a voyage between this Colony and Nickerie in Dutch Guiana may on such voyage carry the number of passengers which it might carry if it were a vessel employed in a coasting voyage, under any regulations made under the Shipping Casualties Prevention Ordinance, 1895, and if there are on board any such ship at or after the time of clearance a greater number of persons than the number aforesaid the master of such ship shall, on being convicted thereof be liable to a penalty of not less than twenty-four dollars and not exceeding ninety-six dollars for each person in excess of such number aforesaid.

135. 2nd April, 1912.

NUMEROUS cases having occurred in which it has been shown that the provisions of the law with regard to Estates Duty are very imperfectly understood, the following Sections from the Estate Duty Ordinance, 1898 (No. 4 of 1898) are hereby published for general information, special attention being called to the penalty provided for in Section 17 of the Ordinance :—

Section 12.—The heir and executor of every deceased person shall be under the same liability to pay the estate duty, payable in respect of the property and effects becoming subject thereto, on his death, as if such duty had been a debt incurred by such deceased person, and shall have power to pay such duty out of any money for the time being in hand, or to raise the amount of such duty, and any interest and expenses properly paid or incurred in respect thereof by sale or mortgage of such property and effects or any part thereof.

Section 13.—(1.) The heir or executor of every deceased person shall, if such person died in this colony within two months after his death, or if such person died out of this colony within six months after his death, appear by himself or some other competent person before the proper officer of the Receiver General's Department, and

(a.) Deliver a full and articulate inventory of all the property which such deceased person possessed at the time of his death, together with a statement of the deductions which are to be made therefrom, exhibiting at the same time the will (if any) of the deceased ; and

(b.) Make a declaration verifying such inventory and statement, and stating that such property is of the value of a certain sum therein specified to the best of the deponent's knowledge, information and belief. (Amd. 38 of 1902, s. 2 (1)).

(2.) If such property, owing to its not all passing to the same class of persons, is not all subject to estate duty at the same rate, such property shall in such inventory be classified according to the rate of estate duty to which it is subject, and the value of each class of property shall be separately stated in such declaration, and the aggregate amount of the deductions to be made from the aggregate value of such property shall be apportioned between the separate classes of property in proportion to their several values.

(3.) The Supreme Court in its civil jurisdiction may, on motion being made and good cause shown, extend the period hereinbefore fixed for making the inventory and declaration hereinbefore mentioned.

Section 17.—If any person who ought to deliver an inventory and make a declaration or a further declaration (as hereinafter mentioned) neglects to do so within the period prescribed by law for the purpose, he shall be liable, on summary conviction, to a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars, and shall be further liable to pay to His Majesty double the amount of duty chargeable, and the same shall be a debt due from him to the Crown, without prejudice to the liability of the property and effects of the deceased person to the payment of the duty chargeable thereon (38 of 1902, s. 2 (2)).

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

THIS 29TH DAY OF MARCH, 1912.

SOOKRAJ
versus RAGWANTEE.

In this case the defendant, through his counsel, is trying to appeal from a decision of the learned Magistrate on pure questions of fact.

I decide that reason (1) of reasons of appeal is bad because it does not give particulars of insufficiency of evidence as alleged.

Paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of reason 2 do not raise any point of law but questions of fact merely.

Reason 3 of appeal is excluded because the notes of the learned Magistrate do not even show that the evidence alleged to be rejected was ever tendered much less rejected, and this Court is bound by the Magistrate's note on such a point.

These three are the only reasons of appeal and for the above reasons the appeal is dismissed with costs.
